

The Cycle Frontier How to Get Twitch Drops Limited Time

On the occasion of the release of The Cycle Frontier Season 1, YAGER made a 12 days provision of getting free drops for those who have accounts in Twitch. It is a limited time event which is in effect from June 23 to allure gamers into the Cycle Frontier world. That's fascinating!! So, let's discuss how to get into Twitch and claim this exciting gifts.

First and foremost, you need to have a Twitch account that should be connect to the YAGER account. This can be done by logging into the Cycle Frontier Twitch drop site through your PC and following the steps one after another. That's all; you can now watch respective stream videos. When you earn the drop there will be a pop up to claim it. There be an email too.

This feature has been into effect from 11 am June 23 to 12 pm July 4. The streamer can claim 84 drops in total that is he/she can only claim 7 drops in 18 hours only. The rarity of drop depends upon how many hours a person can devote to the streaming platform Twitch. It is said that if you watch videos in late hours, it will provide you with rare items yet the probability of getting a legendary rare item is less. YAGER stated that to balance the value of a rare and a common object this feature has been taken into account. The drop starts from 6 a.m. ET.

Well, to this the developers have added some spice. Among the 12 days, some days are scheduled for players to watch streaming videos as an individual and some days are scheduled to partner with other streamers or affiliates and the drop profited will be divided among the individuals. Here's the schedule for The Cycle Frontier Streaming Videos:

- June 23-25: open days, any individual under The Cycle: Frontier can stream with drops enabled
- June 25-27: collaborate with 10 exclusive partners who will watch in a rotation
- June 28-29: only affiliates, drops will be exclusively for YAGER's new- upcoming or smaller channels that stream in the platform
- June 29- July 2: Partners are required
- July 2-4: open days, any individual under The Cycle: Frontier can stream with drops enabled
