

Xenoblade Chronicles 3: How to Get Gray

This version of the game of the series where you unlock heroes and interact with to use their powers. There are enemies, undiscovered areas and creatures. One of such characters include Gray which you need to unlock in the quest “A Gray Matter”. This guide will help you to unlock the character in the quest. So, without any further ado, let’s get started.

First of all, you need to recruit Valdi after the completion of the chapter 2 main quest- “The Knight Right Hand”. Valdi will teach you how to climb the walls. Now, you reach to the Kamos Guidepost of the Aetia region and head towards north till you find a pink colored moss wall near the question mark. Climb the wall, turn right and go behind the cliff to reach the question mark. A cutscene will be played introducing Gray, a Full Metal Jaguar attacker.

There will be an onset of fight between the team and the Metal attacker. His attacks will be wide and powerful. Fight with him till make his health half which will be followed by a cut scene where Gray will flee by jumping in the river. A fight will take place between the team and the soldiers which can be won with ease. Again, there will be a cutscene where the team decides to meet Gray again. Go to the river side where you will get a quest to Track Mystery Man’s Trail. Interact and follow the trail of footsteps. Gray would be wandering on the river bank. After that a cutscene will be played when the Keves soldiers would have tailed you. The team and the mystery man would team up to fight with the soldiers which will lead to easy win. After the last interaction with Gray, he will introduce his name and the quest is completed. This is how you unlock Gray.

That’s all!
